

Self-Sustaining Ecosystem(Terrarium/ habitarium)

Abstract: With a variety of different environments, we attempted to create a self-sustaining ecosystem using specific amounts of available resources. By enclosing these resources in a container, we can create a self-sustaining ecosystem. We attempt to do this by incorporating the idea of a terrarium with other organism. By manipulating the natural resources and organisms, we can measure values that will create the best ecosystem.